1. Warranty Claims and Warranty Period

This Contractual Warranty is provided by Schneider Electric and covers defects in workmanship and materials in your Product. This warranty period commences 90 days from the date of the Schneider Electric commercial invoice or from the date the Product is commissioned, whichever is first, and expires on the same date five (5) years later, unless otherwise agreed in writing (the "Warranty Period"). This Contractual Warranty is transferable to subsequent owners but only for the unexpired portion of the Warranty Period.

2. Warranty Coverage

If your Product becomes defective and you notify Schneider Electric of such defect within the Warranty Period, Schneider Electric will repair or replace the defective Product (at no charge to you) with new or reconditioned parts, or similar parts of functional equivalence, provided that Schneider Electric through inspection establishes the existence of such a defect which is covered by this Contractual Warranty. Alternatively, Schneider Electric may elect (at its sole discretion) to provide you with cash compensation equal to the Product's value.

If Schneider Electric repairs or replaces a Product, its warranty continues for the remaining portion of the original Warranty Period or 90 days from the date of the return shipment to the customer whichever is greater. All replaced Products and all parts removed from repaired Products become the property of Schneider Electric.

Schneider Electric requires a customer representative to be on site (arranged and paid for by you) for all warranty repair or replacement services. Accordingly, if on-site warranty servicing is required, you will need to provide Schneider Electric with the relevant contact information for your representative for scheduling purposes.
